President's Stadium

President's Stadium is home to NYIT men's and women's soccer and men's and women's lacrosse. All foursports compete at the NCAA Division II level, as members of the East Coast Conference. Surrounding the stadium is a quarter mile concrete track which all sports use for conditioning and training.

The East Coast Conference

The East Coast Conference (ECC) entered a new and exciting era on July 1, 2006, when it adopted a new name and branding, reflective of the growth the league has experienced since debuting as the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference nearly 20 years ago.

The ECC is the offspring of several single-sport college conferences which existed in the New York City Metropolitan Area in the 1960's, 70's and 80's. It is a direct descendant of the Big Apple Basketball Conference, which was a Men's Division II conference with six members: C.W. Post, Queens, Southampton, Mercy, Concordia and Dowling.

In the 1980's the NCAA began to emphasize the importance of conferences in organizing competition and determining bids to NCAA tournaments. The NCAA required six teams to be recognized as a conference and the Big Apple Conference, with barely enough members to survive, was not very competitive. At the same time, local leagues such as the Empire for women's basketball; the Knickerbocker for baseball; and the Suburban for men's soccer lacked members and sufficient administrative control by athletic directors.

In 1988, the athletic directors of C.W. Post and Queens invited the athletic directors of all Division II institutions in the New York Metropolitan Area to discuss forming one multi-sport conference administered by member athletic directors to encourage all local teams to compete against each other in all sports where there were at least six teams. It was hoped that the number of teams in each sport would rise as would the quality of play. After several meetings, it was generally agreed that a multi-sport conference was a good idea and the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference was formed. Its charter members were: Adelphi, Concordia, C.W. Post, Dowling, Mercy, Molloy, N.Y. Tech, Pace, Queens, and Southampton with Dr. Richard Wettan, president; Mary Topping, vice president; Christopher Bledsoe, Secretary; Vincent Salamone, Treasurer; and Neil Judge,

Representative-at-large.

The convenience of scheduling, the reduction of costs, the rising quality of play, and the camaraderie of the schools led to the growth of the conference. The multi-sport nature of the conference helped to attract the College of St. Rose, and Philadelphia Textile (now Philadelphia University) in 1991 and New Jersey Institute of Technology in 1997 which expanded the geographic scope of the NYCAC. This encouraged its existing members to participate in all sports sponsored by the NYCAC. The original intercollegiate competition consisted of round robin play in men's basketball, softball, baseball, and soccer with tournaments held for men's and women's tennis, men's and women's cross-country; and men's golf. The ECC currently sponsors baseball; men's and women's basketball; men's and women's soccer; men's and women's cross country; men's lacrosse; softball; men's and women's tennis; men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field; and women's volleyball. The University of Bridgeport and St. Thomas Aquinas College replaced NJIT and St. Rose in 2000. The University of New Haven joined September 01, 2002.

The departure of Philadelphia and dissolution of the LIU-Southampton campus following the 2004-05 academic year brought ECC membership to 11 and the departure of the University of New Haven, Concordia and Adelphi brought ECC membership to eight.

In March of 2011, expansion began again as ECC member institutions voted in the University of the District of Columbia to become the ninth member of the conference effective in July of 2011.

Roberts Wesleyan College in Rochester, N.Y. became the tenth member in September of 2011 and officially beginning competition in the fall of 2012. Another Western New York institution, Daemen College, was officially accepted as the eleventh conference member in July of 2012 and will begin ECC play in the fall of 2013.
